Difficulty at County Court House

On last Wednesday morning at the court house in the presence of Mr. George E, Garrett, Mr. W. W. Douglass, Mr. R. C. L. Moncure and Mr. H. R. Thomas, Mr. Curtis B. Graham, commissioner of revenue, publicly charged that George H. Rucker as clerk had attempted to rob the county of $600. Mr. Rucker was not present, but his deputy, Mr. Thomas, immediately resented the charge and branded it as unqualifiedly false, upon which Mr. Graham started toward Mr. Thomas with the evident intend of assaulting him. Mr. Will W. Douglass thereupon stepped between them and said Mr. Graham would not strike that young boy (Mr. Thomas) while he was present, because he had told Mr. Graham the truth. Whereupon Mr. Graham used some of his choice English to the effect, "What have you got to do with it, you ---." From all accounts the sentence was never finished, as a trip-hammer suddenly came against Mr. Graham's eye and he fell over against the safe. Parties intervened and thus ended this little chapter. A few minutes later, Mr. Rucker came up from the railroad station, and the first man to greet him, shake hands with him, and congratulate him was the same Mr. Graham who had a few minutes before y evening a youth named es coasting on a bicycle et between Fairfax and dow llided with Mr. Samuel Lee distance east of Lee Elli Hall was thrown over stree ers and his head coming in contact with the vitrified brick pavement carried to his home where he was attended by Dr. Smith. Mr. Elliott was knocked down by the impact and stunned, and he, too, had to be carried to his home, one of his eyes having been seriously injured. Attention has several times been called to this dangerous pastime indulged in by youths and young girls. There is a steep grade from Fairfax to Lee street, and the participants in the sport take their feet from the pedals of the wheels and allow them togather all the headway possible. By the time they reach Lee street they are running almost as fast as express trains. Should they meet with an obstruction the result is sure to be serious. have recently been minor accidents to oung bicyclists near the scene of yesterday's collision, and the above should

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.] The following cases were disposed of this morning: Thomas Lawson, arrested by Officer Mayhugh charged with stealing a head of cabbage from M. Schuler, was sent to jail for ten days.

Two white men, arrested by Officers Lyles and Young charged with disorderly conduct, were dismissed, the complainant failing to appear.

Christopher Mason and Howard Banks, two colored boys, charged with obtaining goods under false pretenses, whose cases were postponed yesterday morning, were tried late yesterday evening. The first-named was fined $5 and the other $10. The boys obtained about one dollars' worth of goods, not twenty-five dollars' worth, as was alleged in the evening. Pennsylvania was ahead when Police Court yesterday.
